Invitation to Help with the 2014 Conference in Advance, Onsite, or Both

17th International Thyroid Cancer Survivors' Conference • Denver, Colorado

Dear Friend,

You're invited to help with the 17th International Thyroid Cancer Survivors' Conference, to be held October 17-19, 2014 at the Doubletree by Hilton Denver Hotel, 3203 Quebec St., Denver, CO 80207.

This weekend offers a unique opportunity to learn from distinguished experts from numerous leading thyroid cancer treatment and research centers, and to meet and share experiences with others living with thyroid cancer.

This important event is for people with every type of thyroid cancer, for people at all phases of testing, treatment, and follow-up. We welcome family members and friends, and everyone interested in thyroid cancer. Each year, people come from all around the US and other countries, for 1, 2, or all 3 days.

Helping is fun and fulfilling. Wherever you live, there's a way you can help. You can help from your home in many ways, with flexible timing of your choosing. We need help with with advance outreach, publicity, and organizing. During the conference, we need help onsite at the hotel.

Below are some ways you can help. Your help is especially needed in spreading the word ahead of time, from now right up to the start of the conference. Whether or not you can attend, you can help other people find out about this tremendous opportunity for learning and support. We also need volunteers during the conference, at the hotel. If you would like to help, but aren't sure what you'd like to do, just send or e-mail us the form anyway. We'll find a task for you! We'll be glad to talk about opportunities and send you details.

We hope to hear from you soon. Thank you very much for helping others.

Best regards,
The Conference Planning Team
